

CHAIN OF COMMUNICATION

Oftentimes, it can be very confusing who parents should contact with a question or concern dealing with their child or a specific aspect regarding the district. To prevent further confusion or frustration, parents can follow the “Chain of Communication” below to begin the communication process regarding their concerns.

Most parental questions can be answered by communicating directly with your child(ren)’s teacher or the educator responsible for the program. Address each situation at the level the initial action was taken, with additional needed communication moving to the next level on the “Chain of Communication”.
